

Jodhpur:

A neurosurgeon from Jodhpur lost Rs 62.8 lakh to cyber criminals who lured him with promises of high returns on stock market investments, the police said.

The fraudsters managed to siphon off the amount within just one-and-a-half days. Realising he had been scammed, the doctor filed an FIR at Bhagat Ki Kothi police station.

According to Bhagat Ki Kothi police station in-charge Rajiv Bhadu, the victim, Tejpal Fidoda, the son of Amar Singh and a resident of Krishna Nagar, received a link on January 3 that invited him to join an app called SCIATOP and a WhatsApp investment group.

Upon clicking the link, he became a member of the group and installed the app.

The group had five administrators, with two key contacts using mobile numbers 9973339746 and 7898103479, while three others were associated with 7357070457, 8624901375, and 7304417998.

The doctor frequently interacted with two individuals named Niharika Tiwari and Saurabh Jain, who claimed to provide expert investment advice.

They created a private wealth group for him, offering guidance on various investment opportunities. The scammers convinced Fidoda to transfer money into an institutional account, promising substantial returns within four months.

They discouraged him from trading through his personal demat account and instead set up an institutional trading account on his mobile via the SCIATOP app.
